

Dear Whistle Veterinary Clinic clients,

Thank you all for your patience and cooperation during the last two years of the COVID-19 pandemic. These have certainly been challenging times for us all, and we appreciate your continued support and commitment to ensuring the safety of our staff and wonderful clients.

As of March 14th, 2022, Masks are no longer required within our practice (but remain optional) regardless of vaccination status for all clients and staff in accordance with current guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), Washington State Department of Health, and Skagit County Public Health. Our team will continue to adhere to the strict disinfection protocols we have always maintained.

Thank you all again for your support – we are so excited to continue taking care of the pets in our community. We will let everyone know if any adjustments to our protocol are necessary in the future.

Sincerely,

The Whistle Veterinary Clinic team
